Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Receipt is acknowledged of the request for continued examination filed 09/16/2009.

Information disclosure statements were filed on 10/27/2009 and 11/17/2009.

The rejections under 35 USC 102(b) and 102(e) over Conte ('901 and '169) and Faour are withdrawn in view of applicant's amendment.

The following rejection is made in response to the amended claims:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Applicant has amended claim 1 to read "wherein the tablet has a substantially constant active ingredient release. No support could be found in the original specification for this limitation. This is considered new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-5, 7, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bayer Aktiengesellschaft (JP 2001-517625).

This document is the Japanese equivalent of US Patent No. 6,270,799. The patent refers to release of compounds at a defined release rate(see Abstract). The release rates are shown to be constant in Figure 1 in comparison with an immediate release formulation. The drug formulation has a core, a shell, and an opening in the shell (see col. 6, lines 50-62), Tablet formulations are set out at col. 5, lines 60-67, with acceptable auxiliaries set out at col. 6, lines 5-23, these include binding agents, and lubricants. The instant claims are anticipated by JP 2001-517625.

Claims 1-5, 7 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Seifert et al (US Patent No. 6,270,799).

The release rates are shown to be constant in Figure 1 in comparison with an immediate release formulation. The drug formulation has a core, a shell, and an opening in the shell (see Col. 6, lines 50-62), Tablet formulations are set out at col. 5, lines 60-67, with acceptable auxiliaries set out at col. 6, lines 5-23, these include binding agents, and lubricants. The instant claims are anticipated by Seifert et al.

No claims are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
